Upper high school · analysis and algorithms

Bracketing a root by bisection

Synthesis problem

Investigate, justify, conclude

For $f(x) = x^3 - x - 1$ on [1,2], prove existence and uniqueness of a root α. Carry out three bisection steps. How many halvings guarantee that the final midpoint approximates α with error at most 0.001?